Using a Scoring Rubric

How can you tell if your writing is good or not? One way is to use a scoring rubric. A rubric is a checklist of things to look for. Pages 6–17 tell you more.

SCORE	IDEAS	ORDER	VOICE	WORDS	SENTENCES	RULES
4	Clear ideas on one topic	Has strong beginning, a middle, and a clear end	Writer really cares about subject	Interesting, well-chosen words	Sentences sound good, are complete	Very good spelling, grammar, and punctuation
3	Most ideas clear and on the topic	Has a beginning, a middle, and an end	Writer is interested in subject	Good words	Most sentences sound good, are complete	Few mistakes in spelling, grammar, and punctuation
2	Ideas not always clear or on the topic	Missing some parts	Can't tell how the writer feels	Uses same words or dull words	Some sentences incomplete or confusing	Many mistakes in spelling, grammar, and punctuation
1	Ideas mixed up and not on the topic	Missing many parts	Writing doesn't show feeling	Uses same words or wrong words	Many incomplete, confusing sentences	Too many mistakes in spelling, grammar, and punctuation

Writing Models

A test may ask you to write about something. Here are four answers to the same test. Notes beside and below the answers tell how they got their scores.

Write about your favorite animal.
Tell how it looks and what it does.

Score 4

The cheetah is orange with large black spots and a long swishy tail. His teeth are sharp as knives. He can run 75 miles an hour. He eats meat like antelope and deer. Watch out because he could pounce on YOU. You can see him at the zoo. Just make sure his cage is locked and he is inside.

Writer tells many things about the animal.

Plurals are spelled right.

This is a good word.

You can almost hear the writer speaking.

All sentences are complete.

The ending is clear.

Score 3

I am going to tell you about my pet rat.
His name is Pinky. Because of his little pink button nose. He is black and white.
He has a long skinny tail. He nibbles carrots and lettuce. He sits on my shoulder wen I watch TV. One time he bit me, but he's still my favorite pet.

This is an incomplete sentence.

Writer tells how Pinky looks.

This is a good word.

When is misspelled.

Writer shows feelings about Pinky.

Ending wraps up description.

Score 2

Sam is my dog. A cocker hound with long ears and brown eyes.

He barks when the door bell rings.

Becuz the loud buzz hurts his ears.

Once he a bag of bagels from a garbij can. We have two cats too.

Writer tells about Sam.

These are not sentences.

A word is missing.

Because and garbage are misspelled.

Ending is not about Sam.

Score 1

The words like and butterflies are misspelled.

The best animals that I lik are butterflys
they are so nice and I love them because they are a pretty color and they fly on flowers and they are nice.

A new sentence should begin here.

Nice and pretty do not help readers "see" butterflies.

Writer uses too many and's.
