2.12 British and American English – the same, but different

British and American people speak the same language, English, but with some small differences.

1 Vocabulary

Some words are different in American English, for example, they say ZIP code, not postcode, vacation, not holiday, and cell phone, not mobile phone. Some words have different meanings, for example, in British English a purse is a thing where women have their money and credit cards. In American English a purse is a woman's bag.

2 Spelling

Colour, favour, and other words that end in -O-U-R in British English, end in -O-R in American English. Centre, theatre, and other words that end in -T-R-E in British English, end in T-E-R in American English.

3 Grammar

There are some small differences, especially prepositions. For example, Americans say See you Friday, but British people say See you on Friday.

4 Pronunciation

This is the really important difference between American and British English. American accents and British accents are very different. When an American starts speaking, British people know he or she is American, and vice versa.

I = Interviewer J = Jess

I What do you do, Jess?

J I work in an office. I'm an administrator.

I Do you work long hours?

J No, I don't. I work normal hours, from 9.00 to 5.00, Monday to Friday.

I What does your husband do?

J He's a police officer. He works at night, from 8.00 p.m. to 6.00 in the morning.

I Does he have free weekends?

J No, he doesn't. Well, he has two free days, but they're Wednesday and Thursday. He works Saturday and Sunday – they're busy nights for police officers.

I Do you have time together?

J Not really, except when we're on vacation. I'm in bed when he comes home, he's in bed when I leave home in the morning. We don't eat together. That's awful. Sometimes I don't cook, I just have cookies for dinner.

I Can you think of any good things about your different hours?

J Yes, we earn more money because Carl does a lot of overtime.

I Do you have any suggestions for couples like you?

J Have a whiteboard in your hall or your kitchen and write down all the housework. Then tick things when you do them. That way, the dogs don't eat twice!

I = Interviewer D = Darius

I What time do you get up in the morning?

D I get up at about half past seven.

I How do you feel when you get up?

D I know half past seven isn't that early, but it's early for me and I usually feel tired and in a bit of a bad mood.

I Do you have breakfast?

D Absolutely. I have cereal and milk, and some bread with honey or jam. I love honey!

I Do you walk to school?

D No, it's quite far away. I go to school by Tube. I usually get to school about twenty past eight. I like to be early.

I What time does your first lesson start?

D It starts at 9. I have four or sometimes five lessons before lunch.

I Where do you have lunch?

D I usually have lunch at school at about one o'clock. I know people usually say that school food is terrible, but actually at my school the food is really good.

I And after lunch?

D We start lessons again at 1.45. I usually have two or three lessons in the afternoon.

I What time does school finish?

D At 4.15. But I don't go home then. I stay at school to do extra things – I study in the library or play music.

I What kind of music?

D Well, I sing in the school choir on Tuesdays, and on Thursdays, I play percussion in the orchestra. I love music, it's my main hobby.

I So what time do you usually get home?

D At about six o'clock.

I What's the first thing you do?

D I have a shower, and then I have dinner. And then, of course homework.

I How much homework do you have?

D Two or three hours. It's my last year at school and I have my A levels this summer. I need to get really good marks to get into university.

I Do you watch TV in the evening?

D No, never. I don't have time. When I finish my homework I practise the piano and then I go to bed.

I What time do you go to bed?

D At about half past ten. I'm usually so tired I go to sleep straight away. All I really do these days is study, eat, and sleep.

I So no social media or anything like that?

D Well...I do spend a bit of time on Facebook. But not much, I promise!

5.19

The best thing about the weather in London is that it's never extreme. It isn't usually very hot or very cold. In the summer, it's sometimes sunny and sometimes cloudy, with temperatures of about 22 degrees. And of course, it sometimes rains.

In winter, the temperature is usually between zero and ten degrees. It can be windy and cold, but it hardly ever snows.

In spring and in autumn the weather is very changeable – you can have all the four seasons in one day! It can be sunny in the morning, cloudy at lunchtime, raining in the afternoon, and then cold and windy in the evening. I always tell tourists to take their sunglasses and their umbrellas when they go out!

But one thing you don't often see these days in London is fog. A lot of tourists come to London and say, 'Where's the fog? London is always foggy in films!' Well, it's true that, in the past, that is, until the 1950s, London was a very foggy city because the air was really dirty. But today the air is clean and it's hardly ever foggy.

5.20

6.1 The Glass Bottle

Part 1

Hassan and Walid are brothers. They live in a small house in the desert, near the mountains, a long way from a town or village. They're very poor. They have no money and they have no animals. Their house only has two rooms. Every day is the same. They get up, and they have sweet black coffee for breakfast. Then Hassan works in the fields – but Walid just sits and looks at the hot, empty desert and the hot, empty sky. They live with their mother. She looks after them, but she's old and tired.

One day she says, 'We're poor and hungry. Why don't you leave here and find work? We need money for food and clothes.'

'If you want some money, you have your silver ring – you can sell that,' answers Walid.

'I can't sell it', she says. 'It's your father's. Every night I look at it and remember him.'

Hassan wants to help his mother, and he decides to leave home. His mother gives him bread, and water in a glass bottle. He kisses her, and he walks towards the mountains.

Part 2

Hassan walks for five days through the mountains. The sun shines. At night, it's very cold. Then one evening he arrives at a rich and beautiful palace. The prince in the palace welcomes him. He gives him food and drink, and Hassan sleeps in a comfortable bed. There is one strange thing – the windows have no glass.

The next day, Hassan says goodbye. He wants to thank the prince and give him something, but he only has his empty water bottle. He gives it to him. The prince is very surprised.

'What's this?' he says. 'I can see through it! It's beautiful! It's wonderful!'

He is very happy, and in return he gives Hassan a box.

'Don't open it until you get home,' he says. 'And be careful with it. It's very valuable.'

Hassan walks through the mountains again, and after five days he arrives home. Walid and their mother watch him open the box. He finds 100 gold coins inside. His mother is very happy! 'Hassan, you clever boy!' she says. 'Now we can buy food and clothes!'

The next night, Walid makes a plan.

'100 gold coins in return for a glass bottle,' he thinks. 'If I give the prince my mother's silver ring, perhaps I can get 1,000 gold coins!'

So Walid gets up, goes very quietly into his mother's room, and takes her ring from a box under her bed.

The next morning he asks his brother where the palace is, and he leaves.

6.5

Part 3

Walid walks for five days through the mountains. The sun shines, and at night it's very cold. Then, one evening, he finds the palace. The prince welcomes him and gives him food and drink, and a comfortable bed. But Walid can't sleep. He's thinking about the 1,000 gold coins.

The next morning he says to the prince, 'I want to say thank you to you. Please have this silver ring. It's my mother's.'

The prince is very happy.

'This is a beautiful ring,' he says. 'Thank you. Let me give you something in return.'

He gives Walid a box.

'Don't open this until you get home,' he says. 'Be careful with it. It's very, very valuable.'

Walid runs through the mountains, and after three days he arrives home.

'Where's my silver ring?' shouts his mother.

Student's Book Audioscript

'Don't worry about your ring!' says Walid. 'Look at this!'

Hassan and their mother watch as he opens the box. Inside he finds the glass bottle.

Lesson 7A

7.1

This painting is a self-portrait by the Dutch painter Vincent van Gogh.

van Gogh was born in the Netherlands on 30th March 1853. His parents weren't poor – his father was a church minister, and his mother was an artist. van Gogh's first job was in his uncle's company, selling paintings, but later he was a teacher in England, and finally a painter. We only really know what he looked like because of his many self-portraits. Only three photographs of him exist, and they are all from when he was young. This portrait is from his time in Arles in the South of France, in 1888, when he was 35. He was very poor, but he was happy, because of the beautiful light and colours there. This portrait was a present for his friend, the painter Paul Gauguin. Gauguin and van Gogh were together in Arles for a month. van Gogh was not strong mentally, and the relationship between them was difficult. After a big fight, van Gogh cut off his ear, and was in a mental hospital for some time. He died on 29th July 1890. He was only 37 years old. His paintings weren't popular during his lifetime and he was never rich or famous. But today people think that Vincent van Gogh is one of the greatest painters in the world, and his paintings, like Sunflowers, and The Starry Night, sell for millions of pounds.

Kevin and his partner Jeanette live in Birmingham, England. Last year they decided to go on a winter holiday to Trinidad in the Caribbean, and they looked for flights online. They were very happy to find cheap flights – only £800 return for the two of them. Kevin booked the flights and they started to plan their holiday. On the day of their flight, they arrived at Birmingham Airport and parked their car in the long-stay car park. Then they walked into the terminal building and tried to check in their bags. The check-in assistant looked at their boarding passes and asked where they wanted to go. 'Trinidad,' they replied. 'We're going there on holiday.' The check-in assistant looked surprised.

A Where do you want to go?

J Trinidad. We're going there on holiday.

A I'm sorry, but there are no flights from here to Trinidad.

K No flights? But we booked last month!

A Let me check your booking. [pause] Oh, I see. I'm really sorry, but your booking isn't from this Birmingham. It's from Birmingham Alabama, in the United States.

J No, it can't be.

A I'm very sorry, but it is. Look, it says BHM – that's the code for Birmingham airport in the States. You can't fly from here.

J I don't believe it. Kevin, did you check the airport when you booked?

K Yeah. It was Birmingham. I didn't check which Birmingham.

J You idiot!

A I'm very sorry, but you can't fly today.

7.8

F = Friend D = Denisa

F What was your best ever New Year's Eve? One you always remember?

D Oh, definitely 2014, when I was in Rio.

F Who were you with?

D I was with my boyfriend Marcelo, who's Brazilian.

F Why was it so special?

D Well, Brazil has special traditions for New Year's Eve, and they were all new for me. For example, it's a Brazilian tradition to wear white clothes for New Year's Eve, because white is a symbol of peace, so I wore a beautiful white dress which Marcelo's mother bought me. I have a photo somewhere on my phone. Yes, here, look!

F How lovely. So what did you do?

D Er, let me think. Well, first we had a typical New Year's Eve dinner with Marcelo's family. And then, I suppose it was about ten, we got a bus to Copacabana.

F What was the atmosphere like there?

D Oh, it was amazing! The streets were already full of people. We went to a show at a place near the beach. It was great, and we danced samba.

F Wow. Were you there at midnight?

D No, no. When we saw it was nearly midnight, we went to the beach, and the typical countdown started, you know – ten, nine, eight...Happy New Year! Everywhere we heard the sound of people opening champagne, and we watched the wonderful fireworks.

F It sounds great. What did people do when the fireworks finished?

D Most people went to other parties, or they went home.

F And what about you?

D We decided to go to a different beach, a beach called Praia do Arpoador, and we had our first swim of the New Year. It was magical.

R So, Jenny, we have a free morning. What do you want to do?

J Well, you're the expert on London life! What do you suggest?

R Well, we can go cycling –

J I don't have a bike.

R We can rent bikes. It's easy.

J That's cool.

R OK, great. So, we can cycle through the parks, and you can see a bit of London.

Oh, hang on. Uh oh. It's Daniel. Daniel, hi!

D Hi Rob. You need to do an interview this morning with an artist. He's at the Tate Modern.

R Can I do the interview on Monday?

D Sorry, he can only do this morning.

R OK, send me the details.

D Thank you very much, Rob.

R I'm sorry.

J That's OK, I understand. Work is work!

R But I can meet you later, outside the Tate Modern. It's on the South Bank.

J I can find it. I have a map, I can cycle there.

R Let's meet at twelve o'clock then.

J You sound like a tour guide!

R Sorry...I interviewed the architect last year. So what would you like to visit?

J What is there to see?

R Well, we could see the Tate Modern first as we're here, and then we could go to the Globe Theatre. Do you like Shakespeare?

J Not really. I studied too much Shakespeare in college.

J It's Daniel.

J Sorry. Hi, Daniel.

D Hi, Jennifer. How's your free day? Are you enjoying London?

J Absolutely. It's fantastic.

D Listen, I have some free time today. Would you like to meet for lunch?

J That's really nice of you, Daniel, but I'm sorry, I can't. I'm really far away from the office right now.

D That's OK. No problem. Maybe another time?

J Definitely. Bye.

R What did he want? Anything important?

J Not at all. Hey, let's go inside the Tate Modern now.

Student's Book Audioscript

R Yes, of course. There's a great restaurant on the top floor. The view is fantastic. The Tate Modern was a power station until 1981. Did you know that?

N = narrator I = Inspector Granger A = Amanda

N Inspector Granger arrived at about nine o'clock.

He was a tall man with a big moustache. Amanda, Barbara, Claudia, and Gordon were in the living room. The inspector came in.

I Mr Travers died between midnight last night and seven o'clock this morning

N he said.

I Somebody in this room killed him.

N He looked at them one by one, but nobody spoke.

I Mrs Travers, I want to talk to you first. Come into the library with me, please.

Amanda followed the inspector into the library and they sat down.

I What did your husband do after dinner last night?

A We finished dinner at about 9.30. Then Jeremy said he was tired and he went to bed.

I Did you go to bed then?

A No, I didn't. I went for a walk in the garden.

I What time did you go to bed?

A About quarter to twelve.

I Was your husband asleep?

A I don't know, Inspector. We...we slept in different rooms. But I saw that his door was closed.

I Did you hear anything when you were in your room?

A Yes, I heard Jeremy's bedroom door. It opened. I thought it was Jeremy. Then it closed again. I read in bed for half an hour and then I went to sleep.

I What time did you get up this morning?

A I got up at about 7.15. I had breakfast and at eight o'clock I took a cup of tea to my husband. I found him in bed. He was...dead.

I Tell me, Mrs Travers, did you love your husband?

A Jeremy is...was a difficult man.

I But did you love him, Mrs Travers?

A No, Inspector. I hated him.

I What did you do after dinner yesterday evening?

B After dinner? I played cards with Gordon, and then I went to bed.

I What time was that?

B It was about half past eleven. I remember, I looked at my watch.

I Did you hear anything in your father's room?

B No. I didn't hear anything.

I Miss Travers, did you have any problems with your father?

B No, I didn't have any problems with him at all. Daddy was a wonderful man and... a wonderful father. I'm sorry, Inspector.

I Don't worry, Miss Travers. No more questions.

8.5

N = narrator I = Inspector G = Gordon

N Next the inspector questioned Gordon Summers.

I What did you do after dinner, Gordon?

G I played cards with Barbara. Then she went to bed.

I Did you go to bed then?

G No. I stayed in the living room and I had a glass of whisky. Then I went to bed.

I What time was that?

G I don't remember exactly. I didn't look at the time.

I Did you hear anything during the night?

G No, I didn't. I was very tired. I slept very well.

I You and Mr Travers were business partners, weren't you?

G Yes, that's right.

I And it's a very good business, I understand.

G Yes, Inspector, it is.

I And now it's your business.

G Listen, Inspector, I did not kill Jeremy. He was my partner and he was my friend.

N = narrator I = Inspector C = Claudia

N Finally the inspector questioned Claudia Pasquale.

I What did you do yesterday evening, after dinner?

C I went to my room and I had a bath and I went to bed.

I What time was that?

C About 11 o'clock.

I Did you hear anything?

C Yes. I heard somebody go into Jeremy's room. It was about twelve o'clock.

I Who was it?

C It was Amanda, his wife.

I Are you sure? Did you see her?

C Well no, I didn't see her. But I'm sure it was Amanda.

I You were Mr Travers's secretary, Claudia.

C Yes, I was.

I Were you just his secretary?

C What do you mean?

I Were you in love with Mr Travers?

C No, I wasn't.

I The truth please, Claudia.

C Very well, Inspector. Yes, I was in love with him and he said he was in love with me. He said he wanted to leave his wife – Amanda – and marry me. I was stupid. I believed him. But he didn't leave her. He used me, Inspector! I was very angry with him.

I Did you kill him?

C No, Inspector. I loved Jeremy.

J Barbara? What's the problem?

G It's not exactly a problem. I'm in love with her, and I want to marry her.

J Marry Barbara? Marry my daughter! Are you crazy? Never! You don't love Barbara. You only want her money!

G That's not true, Jeremy. I love her.

J Listen to me. If you marry Barbara, when I die all my money goes to Claudia.

G To Claudia? To your secretary?

J Yes.

Lesson 8C

8.19

We stayed at The Langham for two nights. It's a wonderful place – a very elegant, very English hotel. The service, atmosphere, and room were excellent and we really enjoyed our stay. But we had a very strange experience. On the first night we woke up at about 5.30. There was a strange noise outside our door. It was like somebody was scratching the door with their fingers. To tell you the truth, we were a little bit frightened. Then we thought that probably it was other guests coming back late from a party, maybe they were drunk or something, and we went back to sleep. But the second night exactly the same thing happened. So we just thought, strange, maybe it's because it's an old hotel. But when we got home we told the story to a friend, and he told us that that The Langham is haunted. We looked on the internet, and we read that people say that room 333 has a ghost! And our room was 332, the next room! We sent an email to The Langham and told them about it and they sent us some really interesting information about the ghost stories. We'd really like to stay in this fantastic hotel again, but maybe not in room 333!

I stayed at The Langham in November last year with my husband. It's a beautiful hotel, with a wonderful location. It's between Hyde Park and Regent's Park. We were in a room on the second floor. We knew that people said there were ghosts, and we knew about room 333, but we weren't worried at all. We had a nice meal in the hotel restaurant and then we went to bed. But in the middle of the night – about 3.00 in the morning – we suddenly woke up and we could hear loud noises from the room above us. They were really loud noises – like people were moving the bed or moving a heavy chair. Anyway, after two or three minutes the noises stopped and we went back to sleep. There weren't any more strange noises, and we slept for the rest of the night. The next morning we went to Reception and said, 'We slept really badly last night – the people in the room above us made a terrible noise.' The man at reception asked for our room number and said, 'Let me check'. He looked on the computer and he said, 'The room above you is empty, madam.' So I said, 'Are you sure?' And he said, 'Yes, madam. The room above yours is room 333. There wasn't anybody in that room last night.' We checked out of the hotel the same morning. Never again!

- A We need food for the weekend – can you do the shopping on your way home this evening?
- B OK, I suppose so. What do we need?
- A Let's see. We need some coffee, we don't have any.
- B OK...coffee...
- A And some milk. And some juice.
- B Orange juice?
- A Fine. And maybe apple juice, too.
- B OK. What else?
- A Get a pineapple if they have them.
- B One pineapple...
- A And some oranges – four or five oranges – and some bananas. And I want to make a vegetable curry, so get some onions, some potatoes, some tomatoes...
- B Hold on, wait a minute...! Potatoes...
- A Yes, two or three big ones. Oh, and forget the tomatoes, we've got some in the fridge. And a bottle of wine.
- B White? Red?
- A Don't mind. Oh, and a lettuce, I want to make a salad.
- B A lettuce... Do we need any tomatoes?
- A No, I said no tomatoes!
- B Sorry, yes, you did. Is that everything?
- A Yes, I think so. And don't forget anything!

This is for my foodie friends. In case you thought lettuce was only for salads, here I'm cooking it in some butter with an onion. Then I add some mushrooms, chicken, fresh tomatoes and some other things – not sure yet. Lettuce is also great in soups, or you can grill it and serve it with blue cheese.

We didn't feel like cooking last night, and anyway we didn't have any food in the house, so we decided to order some takeaway salads from our wonderful local pizzeria. They were all very good, but my favourite was a chicken salad with carrots, tomatoes, peppers, lettuce, and some pieces of fried bread.

Dinner last night at a restaurant in Piccadilly, called NOPI. We had lots of different sharing plates. I loved everything, especially this dish called shakshuka, which is North African, and it's basically eggs in a tomato sauce, but the mixture of herbs and spices makes it just fantastic. And the bread we had to dip in the sauce was wonderful, too. Go there. Soon.

OK guys, this is it! Our Thanksgiving dinner – which we had at 6.30 last night. All the usual things, turkey with cranberry sauce, roast potatoes, mashed potatoes, lots of vegetables, and more... and more... Mom said, why not go to a restaurant this year, maybe have seafood, but I said no, I want it home-made and traditional – so she did it. Thanks, Mom. I now need to spend a few hours on the sofa before I even think of going to bed. So how was yours?

Fascinating facts about sugar and salt

At different times in history, both sugar and salt were called 'white gold', because they were so expensive and difficult to get. But there are many more interesting facts about sugar and salt...

- Salt is used to make glass, washing powder, and paper.
- Sugar really helps the medicine go down! It's an important ingredient of many modern medicines.
- Christopher Columbus introduced sugar to the New World in 1493 on his second voyage.
- If you put sugar into a vase of flowers, the flowers last longer.
- If you want to check if an egg is fresh, put it in a cup with water and salt. If the egg floats, it isn't very fresh.
- In the UK, there's a club for people who collect the little packets of sugar you get when you order tea or coffee in a café or restaurant.
- If your dog or cat has fleas, and they are now living in your carpets, put some salt on the carpets and leave it for 12 hours. This kills all the fleas.
- Only 6% of the salt used in the USA is used in food; another 17% is used for de-icing roads in the winter months.
- Sure and sugar are the only two words in the English language that begin with 'su' and are pronounced 'sh'.
- Scientists use sugar to make different kinds of plastic, e.g. for food packaging.
- Salt removes red wine stains (though probably not from your new white carpet).
- If you eat too much salt (about one gram per kilogram of weight), you can die. This was a method of ritual suicide in ancient China.

- P Question 2. How far is it from New York City in the east to Los Angeles in the west? Is it a, about 2,500 kilometres, b, about 4,000 kilometres, or c, about 5,000 kilometres?
- C About 4,000 kilometres.
- P Are you sure?
- C Yes. I'm sure.
- P B is the right answer! Question 3. How many politicians are there in the British Parliament? Is it a, 450, b, 650, or c, 750?

P = Presenter E = Eddie

P Good evening. Welcome to Quiz Night. Tonight's show comes from Manchester. And our first contestant is Eddie from Chorley. Hi, Eddie. Are you nervous?

E No, not really. I think I'm, er, well prepared.

P Well, let's hope so. The rules are the same as always. I'm going to read you some sentences, and you have ten seconds to say if the sentence is true or false. If you get the first answer right, you win 100 pounds. Then for each correct answer you double your money, so if you get the second answer right, you win 200 pounds, and for the third correct answer you win 400 pounds. For eight correct answers you win 12,800 pounds. But if you get an answer wrong, you lose all the money. Remember you can also phone a friend, so if you're not sure about one of the answers, you can phone your friend to help you. Is that OK, Eddie?

E Yeah, OK.

9.17

P OK, Eddie, first question for 100 pounds. A whale can make a louder noise than a lion. True or false?

E A whale can make a louder noise than a lion. Er, true.

P Correct. Blue whales can make a sound of up to 188 decibels, whereas a lion's roar is never more than 114 decibels. Ro-a--rrrr. Now, for 200 pounds, the First World War was shorter than the Second World War. True or false?

E Er, I think it's true.

P Correct. It's true. The First World War lasted four years, from 1914 to 1918, but the Second World War lasted six years, from 1939 to 1945. Next, for 400 pounds, the American film industry is bigger than the Indian film industry.

E I think it's false. You know, Bollywood and all that is huge. I think it's false.

P Correct. The Indian film industry is much bigger than the American one. It produces about 1,000 films every year, which is double what Hollywood produces. In fact, America isn't even the second country that makes the most films, which is Nigeria. Next, for 800 pounds, in July, Edinburgh is hotter than Sydney. True or false?

E In July, Edinburgh is hotter than Sydney. Er, true.

P Correct. The average temperature in July in Edinburgh is 15 degrees, and in Sydney it's 13 degrees. Of course Australia's in the southern hemisphere, so it's winter there. Next, for 1,600 pounds, silver is heavier than gold. True or false?

E Er, true. No, er, false.

P Do you want to phone a friend?

E No, I think it's false. I remember from science lessons at school. Gold is heavier than silver.

P Correct. Gold weighs about 19 grams per cm³ and silver weighs only 10.5 grams. That means that gold is almost twice as heavy as silver. OK, for 3,200 pounds, the mountain K2 is more difficult to climb than Mount Everest.

E Er, true.

P Correct. 30% of the people who try to climb K2 die, usually on the way down, whereas only 5% of the people who try to climb Everest die. OK, Eddie, now for 6,400 pounds, driving in Italy is

Student's Book Audioscript

- more dangerous than driving in Belgium. True or false?
- E Er, I think that's a trick question. We all think the Italians drive really fast, but maybe they're good drivers. I think it's false.
- P Well done, Eddie! It may be hard to believe, but in fact out of every 100,000 people, six people died because of car accidents in Italy, compared to seven in Belgium. And finally, the last question. Be very careful, Eddie. If you get it right, you win 12,800 pounds, but if you get it wrong, you get nothing. Are you ready?
- E Yes, ready.
- P OK, for 12,800 pounds, it's better to do exercise in the morning than in the afternoon.
- E Er... er...
- P Quickly, Eddie, your time is nearly up.
- E I think it's false, but I'm not sure. I want to phone a friend.
- P Right, Eddie. So, who do you want to call?
- E Sandra.
- P Is she your girlfriend?
- E Yes, she is.
- P OK then. Hello, is that Sandra?
- S Yes, it is.
- P I'm phoning from Quiz Night. Eddie needs some help. You have 30 seconds, Eddie. Here she is.
- E Hi. Sandra?
- S Yes.
- E Listen. It's the last question. 'It's better to do exercise in the morning than in the afternoon.' True or false? I think it's false.
- S Er, I think it's true. I always see people running in the park in the morning...
- E Google it. Quickly. On your phone.
- S What do I put in?
- E Just that sentence and see what comes up! 'It's better to do exercise in the morning than in the afternoon.' Come on!
- S Yes, I'm writing it. Oh sorry, I just got a message.
- E Hurry up, Sandra!
- P Time's up, I'm afraid. OK, Eddie. So, true or false?
- E Er. True.
- P Final answer?
- E Final answer. True.
- P I'm sorry, Eddie, it's false. It's better to do exercise in the afternoon, between 4.00 and 5.00. Eddie, you had 6,400 pounds, but now you go home with ... nothing.
- E Why did I phone Sandra? Why didn't I phone my friend Dave?

I = Interviewer G = Gunnar A = Adrian

I Gunnar, Adrian, tell us your plan. How can you visit five continents in one day?

G We're going to start in Istanbul. Part of Istanbul is in Asia, which is our first continent. At ten past one in the morning we're going to fly to Casablanca, which is in Morocco, in North Africa. Continent number two.

I Are you going to get another flight immediately?

A No, first we're going to visit the famous mosque – it's the largest mosque in Morocco. Then our next flight is to Paris, at 7.35 in the morning.

I So Europe is your third continent. How long are you going to be in Paris?

G Five minutes maybe? We're just going to go out of the airport – that's one of the rules of our challenge – and then go back in. We only have one hour 55 minutes before our next flight, to Punta Cana in the Dominican Republic.

I So North America is your fourth continent?

G Yes, that's right. And from there the final flight is to Caracas in Venezuela, South America – our last continent. We're going to arrive at 22.05. And then we're going to celebrate!

10.9

I'm going to have a holiday next month.

I'm not going to study English.

Are you going to fly to Paris?

Student's Book Audioscript

10.10

I Gunnar, can you give us a quick summary of your journey?

G OK, so we left Istanbul 20 minutes late, at 1.30 in the morning – not a good start. But we arrived in Casablanca more or less on time. We visited the mosque at 4.30 in the morning – we couldn't go inside though, we just saw it from the outside!

Then we went back to the airport and flew to Paris. When we arrived we rushed outside and took some photos, and then went back in to a different terminal. It was really stressful, the most stressful part of the trip – but we just got to the gate in time for our flight to Punta Cana. When we got there we went to a beach that was just 20 km from the airport, and we relaxed there for a bit and then went back to the airport and got our flight to Caracas. And we arrived here at 10.00 at night, and we officially entered the country at 10.15. So – five continents in one day! We did it!

10.11

1 What are you going to do this summer?

I'm going to go to France.

2 Are you going to go out on Friday night?

Yes, I'm going to see a film.

10.12

If you're thinking of having a holiday or travelling somewhere nice, the planning can be complicated. The internet is full of reviews of hotels, restaurants, and attractions. There are so many different ways of travelling, and thousands of places to go. Where do you start? Why not follow these three simple steps to find the right holiday for you.

Step 1. Think about what you want to do on your holiday.

The first thing people usually try to decide is where they want to go, but it's probably better to start by thinking about what you want to do.

Do you want to relax? Then think about how you relax. For example, do you like reading, or doing yoga, or do you like doing something more active?

Do you want to go somewhere completely different? Do you want to visit an exciting new city, or see some countryside and animals that are different from where you live? Seeing something completely new is a great way to forget about your normal life.

Do you want to have an adventure? Perhaps you're dreaming about climbing Everest or living with an African tribe. You could use your holiday to make one of those dreams come true.

Do you want to learn something new? Not everybody wants to sit in a classroom learning Spanish or be in a kitchen learning to cook when they're on holiday, but some people love it. And nowadays you can do courses in many countries and experience a different culture at the same time.

So now Step 2. Think about the people you're going to go with.

Are they family or friends? Do they have children? What do they want to do? People have different needs and interests, and if you're all going to enjoy the holiday, you need to make sure you all want the same things. But if what you really want to do is to meet new people, perhaps it would be better to travel alone.

And finally Step 3. Think about good holidays you had in the past.

Why were they good? Perhaps it was the people you were with. Perhaps it was something you learned, or an experience you had. What can you repeat from those holidays?

Of course, there are always other things you need to consider, like how much money you can spend, and how much time you can be away. But first follow these three steps, and then you're ready to start thinking about where you want to go!

Narrator said Jane.

Jane I want to see Madame Yolanda, the fortune teller.

Fortune teller Madame Yolanda is not here today

Narrator said the man.

Fortune teller Please choose five cards, but don't look at them.

Narrator The fortune teller put the cards on the table face down. Jane took five cards. The fortune teller turned over the first card.

Fortune teller Ah, this is a good card. This means you're going to be very lucky.

Jane But am I going to stay with my boyfriend?

Narrator Jane asked.

Fortune teller Maybe.

Narrator said the fortune teller.

Fortune teller We need to look at the other cards first.

Jane But my boyfriend works here. He can't move to another country.

Fortune teller Let's look at the next card.

Narrator said the fortune teller. He turned over the third card.

Fortune teller A heart. You're going to fall in love.

Jane Who with?

Narrator asked Jane.

Fortune teller Let me concentrate. I can see a tall dark man. He's very attractive.

Jane Oh, that's Jim.

Student's Book Audioscript

Narrator said Jane.

Fortune teller Who's Jim? Your boyfriend?

Jane No. Jim is a man I met at a party last month. He's an actor, from New York. He says he's in love with me. It was his idea for me to come to Madame Yolanda.

Narrator said Jane.

Fortune teller Well, the card says that you're going to fall in love with him.

Jane Are you sure?

Narrator asked Jane.

Jane But what about my boyfriend?

Narrator said Jane.

Fortune teller Let's look at the fourth card.

Narrator said the fortune teller.

Part 4

Narrator The fortune teller turned over a card with two rings.

Fortune teller Now I can see everything clearly. You're going to leave your boyfriend and go away with the other man, with Jim...to another country. And very soon you're going to get married.

Jane Married? To Jim! But am I going to be happy with him?

Fortune teller You're going to be very happy together. I'm sure of it.

Narrator Jane looked at her watch.

Jane Oh no, look at the time. I'm going to be late for work.

Narrator She stood up, left a £50 note on the table, and ran out of the room.

Part 5

Narrator The fortune teller stood up. He turned on the light. At that moment a woman came in.

Yolanda So, what happened?

Narrator she asked.

Jim It was perfect! She believed everything.

Narrator said Jim.

I told you, I'm a very good actor. She was sure I was a fortune teller!

Narrator He gave the woman £100.

Jim That's Jane's £50 and another £50 from me. Thanks very much, Madame Yolanda. Bye.

Narrator Madame Yolanda took the money. The fifth card was still on the table, face down. She turned it over. It was the plane. She looked at it for a minute and then she shouted:

Yolanda Wait, young man! Don't travel with that girl – her plane is going to... But the room was empty.

I Do you think you have a healthy diet?

G Um, for the most part, I would say I have a healthy diet. Er, lots of fruit and vegetables, and a little bit of chocolate, here and there.

I How much sugar and salt do you eat?

G Um, I don't have that much salt in my diet, but with all of the fruit that I have, I would say I have quite a bit of sugar, natural sugars.

2 Kara

I Do you like cooking?

Ka I love to cook.

I Do you think you're a good cook?

Ka I do think I'm a good cook.

I What's your speciality?

Ka Um, my husband is Cuban, so I learned to cook Cuban food for him, so that's my specialty.

3 Maura

I What's the most beautiful city you've ever been to? Why?

M Er, that's a difficult question, but I think I'd have to say Edinburgh. Um, it's very beautiful, it's got the sea, it's got an extinct volcano in the centre, and every street has, er, a different view.

4 Kevin

I Where are you going to go for your next holiday?

K Er, we've booked that for January and we're going to Thailand for two weeks.

I Where are you going to stay?

K We're staying three nights in Bangkok, three nights in an island called Ko Samui and five nights in an island called Ko Tao.

I How are you going to get there?

K We are flying from Edinburgh to, er, Dubai, Dubai to Bangkok, and then it's another flight from Bangkok to Ko Samui, and then a ferry from Ko Samui to Ko Tao.

5 Mica

I What's the biggest difference between the US and the UK?

Mi Um, so the biggest difference between the US and the UK in New York City, er, food, very different here compared to the UK. Um, lots of burgers and pizza, and fast food and things like that.

Jack

The first thing that I really noticed when I arrived here was how incredibly friendly the people are. The 'ticos' – that's what they're called – are much friendlier than people in Europe. They always say buenos días to you even if they don't know you. And if something's good, like a beautiful day or a good meal, they say pura vida, which I love. It literally means 'pure life', but I think it really means 'things are great', or something like that. One thing that can be difficult though, their sense of time is completely different from ours – they call it 'tico time'. If they have an appointment at, let's say, seven in the evening, they probably leave home at seven o'clock, so they're always late. Luckily my school works on what they call 'British time', so classes start punctually!

Another thing that surprised me was the weather. I thought Costa Rica was hot and sunny all the time. That's true in the dry season, and the temperature's about 25 degrees all year round, but in the rainy season, especially in September and October, it rains really heavily for maybe two hours a day. Really amazing rain, nothing like in England.

Everyone told me that the scenery was beautiful in Costa Rica, but it was even more beautiful than I expected. Incredible animals, birds, trees – and volcanoes. Some of them are active and smoke quietly, and then suddenly there's a big bang and they start erupting. I was quite frightened the first time it happened.

What else? Er, I thought that life here was going to be very cheap, but in fact food is very expensive, especially imported food. The only thing that's cheap is fruit, vegetables, and coffee – wonderful, wonderful coffee. And the fruit and vegetables are very different from what we have in Europe. One day, I went to a market and I didn't recognize any of the fruit.

I like San José. I don't feel that it's dangerous, but it probably is. A colleague of mine was in a taxi the other day and the taxi driver took out a gun and asked him for all his money! And the roads are terrible, especially in the rain! But in general I love it here.

J Not exactly... We'd like you to come to New York.

R Me? To New York?!

J I talked to Barbara about you. You know, Barbara, my boss? She loves your articles, too. So...would you like to come over to New York and work for us. Just for a month. And write a column for New York 24seven. And maybe a daily blog?

R Wow, sounds great!? What could I call it? An Englishman in New York?

J Why not! Are you interested?

R Yes. Very. It's amazing! But I need to think about it.

J Of course.

R When do I need to decide?

J Before the end of the week?

R OK, great. Thank you.
