

Bicycles!

Narrator: It is a lovely, sunny day, and Peppa and George are riding their bicycles.

Mummy: That's a fine pumpkin, Daddy Pig!

Narrator: Daddy Pig is very proud of his pumpkin.

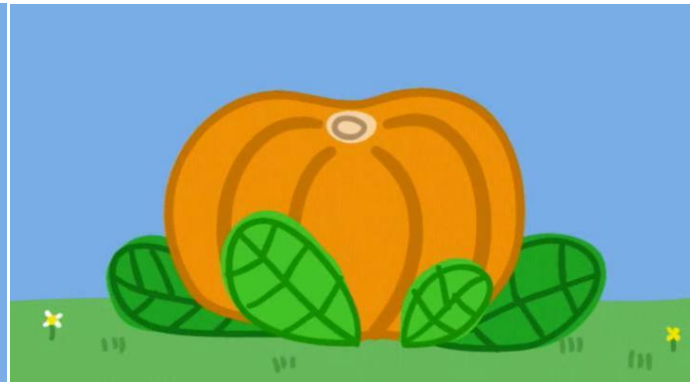

Daddy: Pumpkins are the only thing I can grow.
Probably because I love pumpkin pie!

Peppa: Come on, George.
Danny, Suzy, Rebecca!

Narrator: Peppa and her friends, Danny Dog, Suzy Sheep and Rebecca Rabbit, are riding their bicycles.
George is riding his tricycle.

Peppa: He's going so slowly.

Danny Dog: Let's race to Daddy Pig's pumpkin.

Peppa: If we race to Daddy's Pumpkin, we have to be very careful not to bump into it. Daddy would be very sad if the pumpkin got broken.

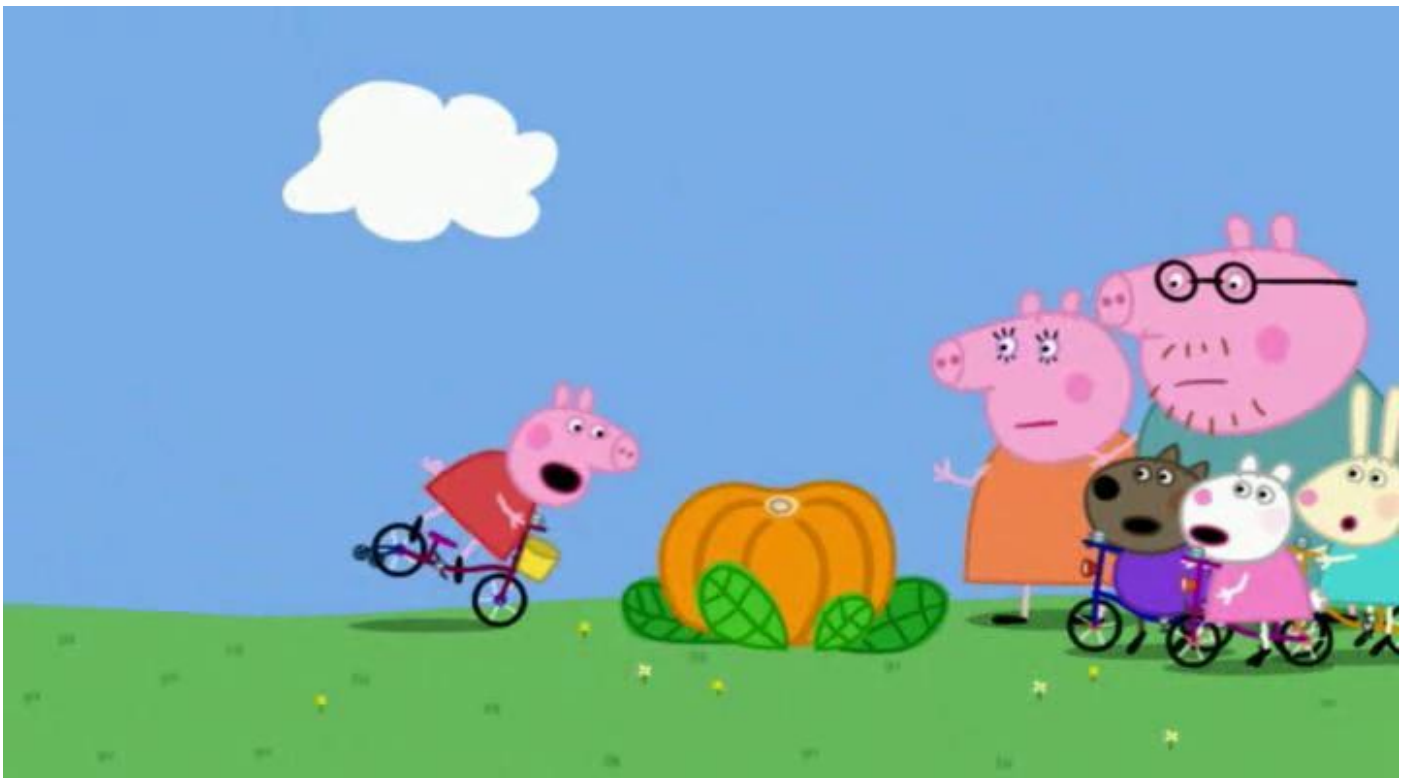

Danny Dog: Don't worry, Peppa... Race you!

Narrator: Peppa and her friends are racing to Daddy Pig's pumpkin!

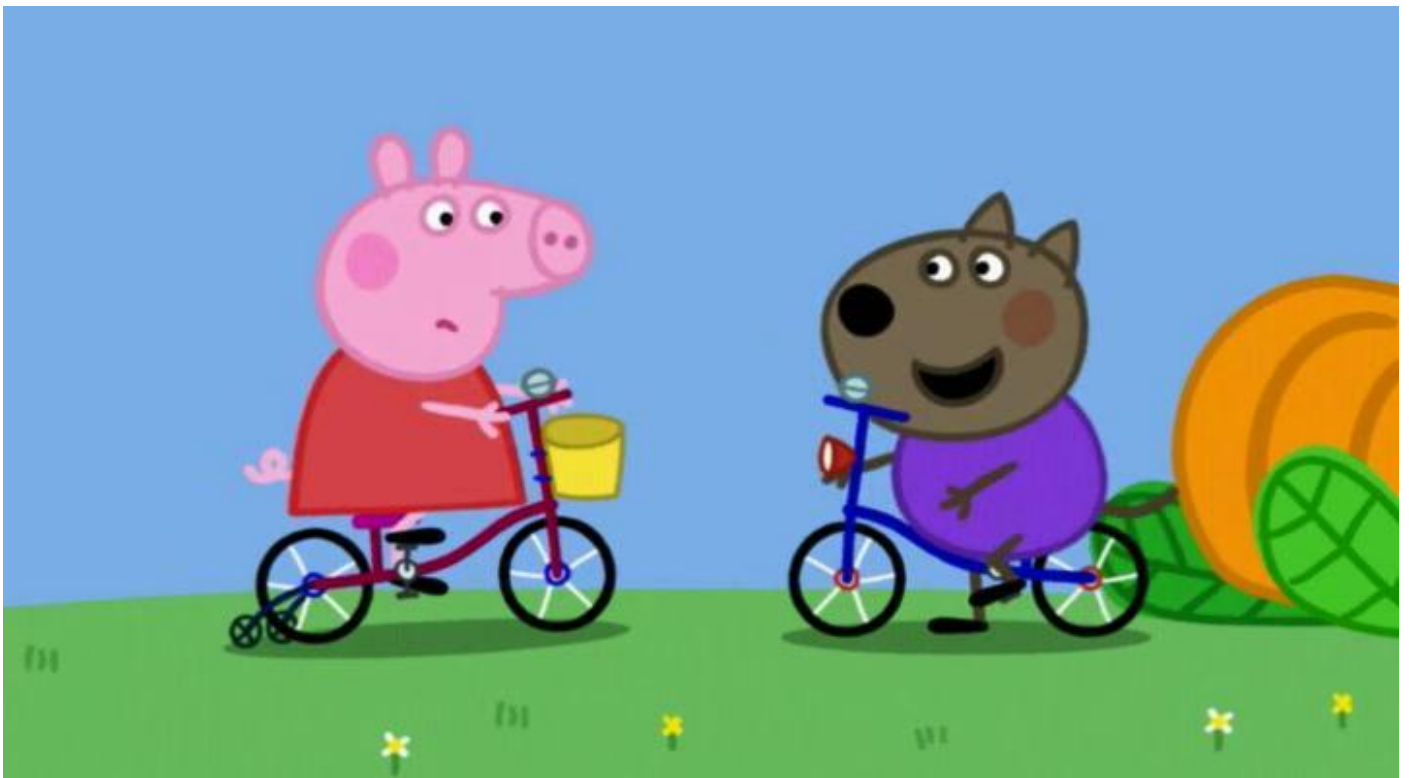

Daddy: Hey! Watch out for my pumpkin!!
Danny Dog: Hurray!

Mummy: Peppa! Look out! Daddy's Pumpkin!!!!
Peppa: Sorry, Daddy!

Peppa: Look at George! He's going so slowly!
George is still riding a baby bike!

Danny: Yours is a baby bike, too, Peppa!
You've still got stabilizers!

Rebecca Rabbit: I can ride without my stabilizers.

Suzy Sheep: Me, too.

Danny Dog: And me.

Danny Dog: Let's ride up the hill again!

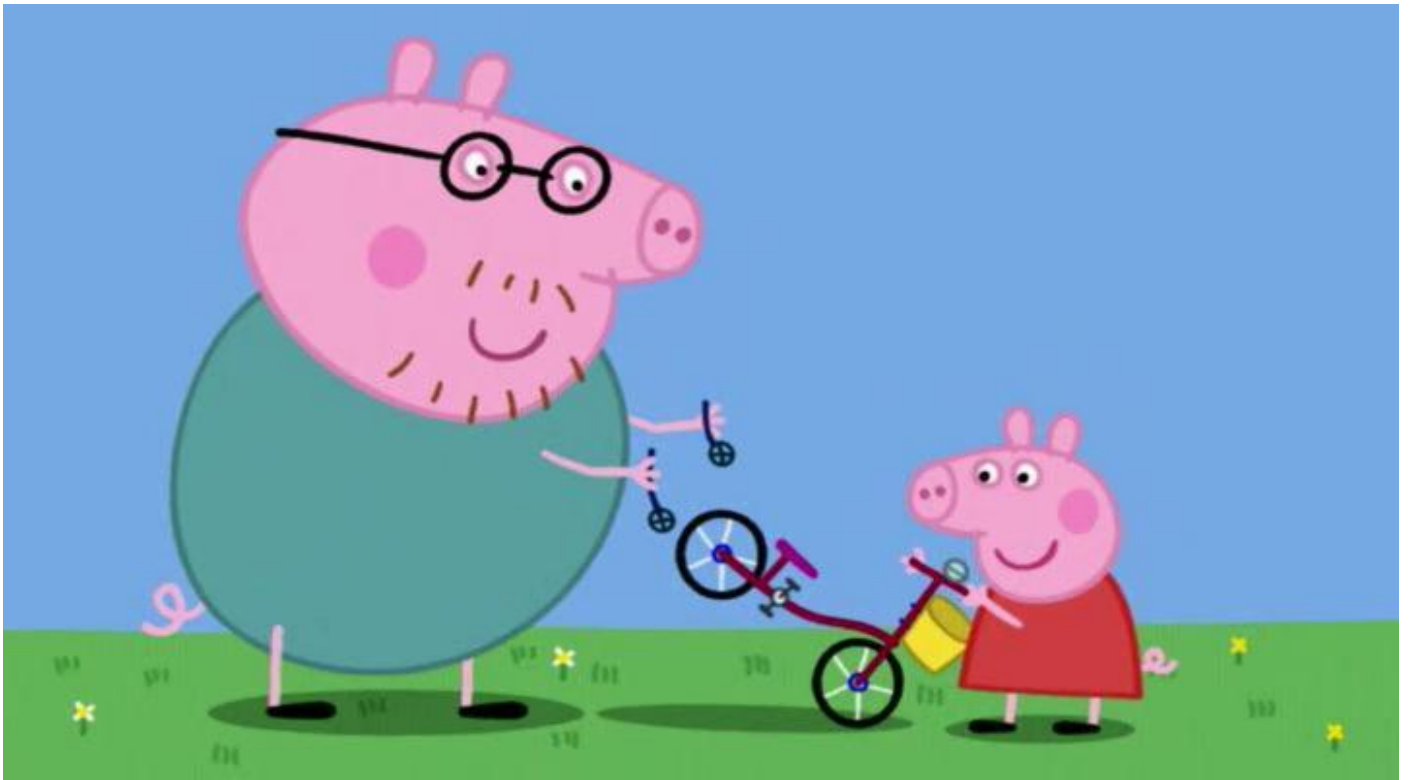

Are you coming, Peppa?

Peppa: No, I think I'll stay here.

Suzy Sheep: See you later!

Peppa: Bye!

 Narrator: Peppa wishes she did not have stabilizers on her bicycle.

Peppa: Daddy, I don't want stabilizers anymore.

Daddy: Do you think you can ride without them?

Peppa: Yes.

Daddy: Alright, Peppa. Let's take them off.

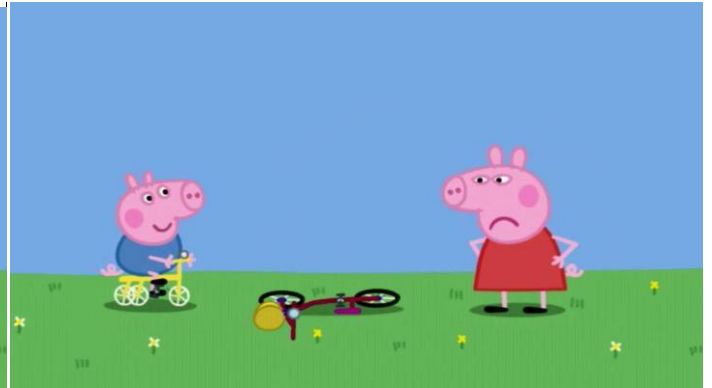

Narrator: Daddy Pig is taking the stabilizers off Peppa's bicycle.

Mummy: Are you sure you want to ride without stabilizers?

Peppa: Yes!

Mummy: You've never done it before.

Peppa: I can do it. I can! I can!

Peppa: Arrgh!

George: Ha ha ha...

Peppa: It's not funny!

Narrator: Riding without stabilizers is not easy.

Daddy: Would you like some help, Peppa?

Peppa: Yes, please, Daddy.

Daddy: Alright. Ready..., Steady... GO!

Peppa: Don't let go, Daddy!

Daddy: Don't worry. I've got you.

Mummy: You're doing really well, Peppa.

Peppa: Hold on, Daddy!

Daddy: Just keep peddling.

Narrator: Peppa is riding on her own, without stabilizers!

Peppa: Daddy! You let go!

Daddy: You've been cycling on your own for ages.

Peppa: Have I?

Mummy: You're really very good at it!

Peppa: Am I?

Oh, I can do it! Look at me!

Look at me! I can ride my bike properly.

Peppa: Danny! Suzy! Rebecca! Look!

I don't need my stabilizers anymore! Look at me!

Danny/Suzy/Rebecca: Hurray!

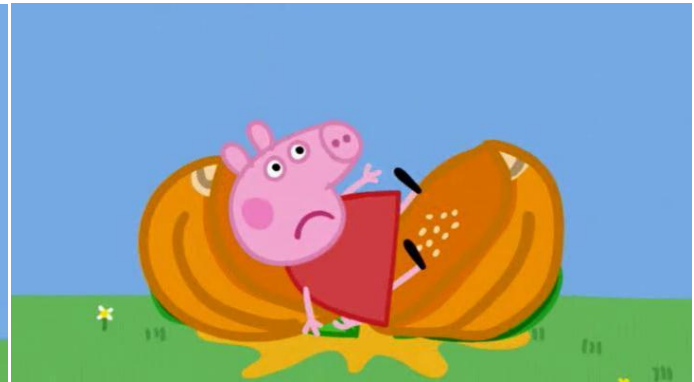

Peppa: Race you to Daddy's pumpkin!

Peppa: Wheeeee!

Peppa, look out my pumpkin!

Peppa: I'm going to win!

Narrator: Peppa isn't looking where she is going!

Peppa: Wahhhh! Oops!

Narrator: Oh, dear, Peppa has squashed Daddy Pig's pumpkin!

Peppa: Sorry I squashed your pumpkin, Daddy.

Daddy: Never mind the pumpkin.

The important thing is that you are okay.

In future, you really must look where you are going.

Peppa: I promise I will, Daddy.

Daddy: Good.

Daddy: Anyway, now the pumpkin is broken, I can make it into pumpkin pie!

Peppa: I love pumpkin pie!

Mummy: And because Daddy Pig's pumpkin is so big, there will be enough pumpkin pie for everyone!

Everyone: Hurray!
