

FAIRIES IN DANGER

Imagine you are a fairy living in a beautiful forest. One day you are walking near the edge of the forest and you hear a loud rumbling noise so you head towards the noise to investigate.

You see a strange yellow machine with many wheels and a large iron shovel that can dig up the earth and knock down trees. You overhear some humans talking. They say they are going to clear the forest with this machine and build a shopping mall. You rush back to the fairy village to warn the other fairies...
