

GNOMES IN THE PARK

It all started when a man was walking in the park. As he was looking at the shore, he spotted two tiny people running with acorns. He wondered why nobody else could see them, and so, curious, he followed them. The two wee folk went into a hole in the ground. He put his eye to the hole to see where they went. Suddenly, he felt himself falling into the hole...

---

---

---

---

---

---