So Marian, what, what do you think of the winter? We are having the winter at the moment. It's very cold, isn't it? But most of the time it's quite sunny as well. It's dry at least. So I quite like winter days that are sunny. Like today I was outside and even though at first it seems quite cold, afterwards with the sun we kind of warmed up very quickly. Yeah. It was nice today. Yeah. But winter is not my favorite season. No, No, I Yeah, I want winter to be over very quickly. So. But soon spring will be here and spring is good. I like spring, Yeah. And then summer. I love summer. Summer is my favorite season, really. Even when it's really, really hot.

Oh, I love it. Last year it was really, really hot and everybody every day would complain and I remember so hot. But I loved it. The hotter the better, really. So yeah, I think it's very relaxing it, it calms me down actually. I feel calm and very relaxed and very hot weather. I quite like hot weather as well. But last summer, the summer you were talking about, I had to go on a very crowded train every morning. So when you have a crowded train and it's very, very hot, it ends up being quite disgusting piled in against all these sweaty people. So I didn't like last summer for that reason. Well, what's your favorite season?

Autumn is my favorite season because I think because every autumn I started school it always feels like a new beginning time of year for me more so than January. I feel like September is a good time to change things and a good time to start new things. And also the the trees are beautiful and the weather is quite mild and and nice. How about you? What's your favorite season? Well, it's probably a tie between summer and fall for what you just said. I agree. The fall has great weather. The trees are beautiful. It's a good time to be outside. It rarely rains and I hate the rain. And plus my birthday is in October. OK. And Halloween, which is a fun holiday. So right. Yeah, that's good.
